MEMORANDUM OF LAW FOR ENTRY OF PARTIAL FINAL DEFAULT JUDGMENTS ON BEHALF OF ARIAS PLAINTIFFS IDENTIFIED AT EXHIBIT A

(ARIAS II)

For the reasons set forth below and in the accompanying declaration of John M. Eubanks (“Eubanks Declaration”), the Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A<sup>1</sup> to the Eubanks Declaration filed contemporaneously with this application, by and through their counsel, Motley Rice LLC, respectfully move this Court for an Order awarding them (1) solatium damages for the losses they suffered as the immediate family members (in this instance, spouses, parents, children, and siblings and the estates of spouses, parents, children, and siblings) of their decedents killed on 9/11 (as indicated in Exhibit A)<sup>2</sup> in the same per plaintiff amounts previously awarded by this Court to various similarly situated plaintiffs in the Arias case,<sup>3</sup> and to plaintiffs in other cases – for example, plaintiffs in the Havlish,<sup>4</sup> Ashton,<sup>5</sup> Bauer<sup>6</sup> and other cases, (2) prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment; and (3) permission for the Arias plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to seek punitive damages, economic damages, or other damages at a later date, and for all other Arias Plaintiffs not appearing on Exhibit A, to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.

Plaintiffs sued the Islamic Republic of Iran in connection with the deaths of plaintiffs' decedents in the 9/11 Attacks. On September 5, 2019, all plaintiffs in the action Arias, et al. v. The Islamic Republic of Iran, Case No. 19-cv-41 (GBD)(SN) ("Arias"), moved for judgment as to liability and for partial final judgment for a subset of the Arias plaintiffs. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 5078. On September 9, 2019, the Court granted plaintiffs' application for judgment as to liability and for partial final judgment for a certain subset of Arias plaintiffs. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 5104. The plaintiffs that are party to this application, as identified in Exhibit A, are a subset of the plaintiffs who have been granted judgment as to liability only, and rely on that judgment as to liability only for their request for default judgment as to the solatium, pain and suffering, or economic damages. The plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A now request entry of partial final default judgment against Iran as to their claims in the amounts indicated in Exhibit A.

I. Procedural Background

a. Related Cases

Relying on evidence and arguments<sup>7</sup> submitted by plaintiffs in In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001, 03-md-1570, the consolidated multidistrict litigation arising out of the 9/11 Attacks, this Court on December 22, 2011, and again on August 31, 2015, granted Orders of Judgment on Liability in favor of the Havlish, Ashton, O'Neill, Federal Insurance, and Hoglan

<sup>7</sup> In each of the Orders of Judgment regarding plaintiffs' claims against Iran in the In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation, the Court premised its determination "[u]pon consideration of the evidence submitted by the Plaintiffs in filings with this Court on May 19, 2011, July 13, 2011, and August 19, 2011, and the evidence presented at the December 15, 2011, hearing on liability, together with the entire record in this case." 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 2516, 3014, 3016, 3020-22; see also 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3023 (substantially similar language).

groups of plaintiffs against the Iran Defendants (See 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 2516, 3014, 3016, 3020, 3020-23). After granting the Havlish Order of Default Judgment on Liability, this Court considered the issue of damages suffered by the Havlish plaintiffs and their decedents. Upon the submissions of the Havlish plaintiffs, on October 3, 2012, this Court found, among other things, that “Plaintiffs may recover for[, inter alia,] solatium . . . in an action under Section 1605A. 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(c)(4). In such an action, . . . family members can recover solatium for their emotional injury; and all plaintiffs can recover punitive damages.” 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 2-3, quoting Valore v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 700 F. Supp. 2d 52, 83 (D.D.C. 2010). This Court also found that the following solatium awards for family members are appropriate, as an upward departure from the framework in Estate of Heiser v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 466 F. Supp. 2d 229 (D.D.C. 2006).

Relationship of Decedent	Solatium Award
Spouse	$12,500,000
Parent	$8,500,000
Child	$8,500,000
Sibling	$4,250,000

03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 4. The Court has applied the same solatium values to claims of other solatium plaintiffs in the Arias case (ECF No. 5104) and other solatium plaintiffs in other cases coordinated in the In re Terrorist Attack on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation. See, e.g., 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3175 at 2; 3300 at 1; 3358 at 9; 3363 at 16; 3399; and 3977 at 7.

In that same decision in Havlish, this Court also found that Plaintiffs are entitled to punitive damages under the FSIA in an amount of 3.44 multiplied by their compensatory damages award. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 5. The Court has applied that 3.44 multiplier also to judgments in the Ashton case. See 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3175, at 3 (Report and Recommendation to apply 3.44 punitive multiplier); 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3229 at 1 (Order adopting in its entirety Report and Recommendation to apply 3.44 punitive multiplier). The Court applied the 3.44 punitive multiplier to the compensatory awards previously awarded in Burnett/Iran. ECF No. 3666. However, in Hoglan, another case in this multidistrict litigation, Magistrate Judge Netburn recommended that the plaintiffs' request for punitive damages be denied without prejudice. 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3358 at 11-16 and 3363 at 28. Judge Daniels adopted Judge Netburn's Reports and Recommendations in their entirety. 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3383 at 2 and 3384 at 6.

In the Havlish decision, this Court also found that prejudgment interest was warranted for the Plaintiffs' solatium damages. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 5. The Havlish plaintiffs sought application of a 4.96% interest rate, which the magistrate judge recommended (03-md-1570, ECF No. 2619 at 13-14) and Judge Daniels adopted (03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 5). In Ashton, plaintiffs sought, and the magistrate judge recommended, application of a statutory nine percent simple interest rate for prejudgment interest. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3175 at 7-8. Judge Daniels adopted the magistrate judge's report and recommendation and has applied the nine percent interest rate in multiple instances in the Ashton and Bauer matters. See 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3229 at 2; 3300 at 1; 3341 at 1. However, in Hoglan, Magistrate Judge Netburn recommended that the 4.96 percent rate for prejudgment interest should be applied to all of the solatium claims, 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3358 at 17-20 and 3363 at 28-29. Judge Daniels adopted Judge Netburn's Hoglan Report in its entirety and applied an interest rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually. 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3383 at 2 and 3384 at 6. The Court applied that interest rate, 4.96 percent per annum, to the awards to other plaintiffs in Burnett/Iran. ECF No. 3666.

b. *Arias v. Iran

The Arias plaintiffs filed suit on January 2, 2019, against Iran. At Plaintiffs' request, the Clerk of the Court issued a Certificate of Default as to Iran on September 3, 2019. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 5059. On September 5, 2019, Plaintiffs requested judgment as to liability against Iran and for partial final judgment for a subset of Arias plaintiffs. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 5078. The Court granted judgment as to liability against Iran in favor of all plaintiffs and entered partial final judgment for a subset of Arias plaintiffs on September 9, 2019. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 5104.

The Arias plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A now respectfully request that this Court grant them an Order awarding them (1) solatium damages for the losses they suffered as the immediate family members (in this instance, spouses, parents, children, and siblings, or the estate of a spouse, parent, child, or sibling) of their decedents (as indicated in Exhibit A to the accompanying Declaration of John M. Eubanks) in the same per plaintiff amounts previously awarded by this Court to various similarly situated plaintiffs; (2) prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment; and (3) permission for the Arias plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to seek punitive damages, economic damages, or other damages at a later date, and for all other Arias Plaintiffs not appearing on Exhibit A, to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.

II. Damages Under § 1605A

Section 1605A of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (“FSIA”) creates an exception to sovereign immunity allowing a foreign state to be held accountable for acts of terrorism or the provision of material support or resources for acts of terrorism where the acts or provision of support or resources were engaged in by an official, employee, or agent of the foreign state while acting within the scope of his or her office, employment, or agency. 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(a)(1). The statute specifies that damages are available “for personal injury or death,” 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(a)(1) and (c)(4), and include “economic damages, solatium, pain and suffering, and punitive damages.” 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(c)(4). Courts addressing the damages available under the statute have held that, among other damages recoverable, “family members can recover solatium for their emotional injury; and all plaintiffs can recover punitive damages. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623 at 2-3, quoting Valore v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 700 F. Supp. 2d 52, 83 (D.D.C. 2010).

Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A are each family members (in this instance, spouses, parents, children, and siblings (or the estate of a spouse, parent, child, or sibling)) of decedents killed on 9/11, who are each entitled to solatium damages based on this Court’s previous determinations in the amounts as previously established and applied by this Court in this and other related cases arising from the 9/11 Attacks. In accordance with the terms of the FSIA, the Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A, spouses, parents, children, and siblings (or the estate of a spouse, parent, child, or sibling) of 9/11 decedents, are entitled to compensation under Section 1605A for their solatium, pain and suffering, or economic damages and are also entitled to prejudgment interest.

a. Solatium Damages

As set forth above, the FSIA specifically provides for an award of solatium damages. Under § 1605A, family members of a decedent may recover for “the mental anguish, bereavement, and grief that those with a close relationship to the decedent experience as a result of the decedent’s death, as well as the harm caused by the loss of a decedent’s society and comfort.” Dammarell v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 281 F. Supp. 2d 105, 196 (D.D.C. 2003), vacated on other grounds, 404 F. Supp. 2d 261 (D.D.C. 2005). Other courts have previously noted that “[a]cts of terrorism are by their very definition extreme and outrageous and intended to cause the highest degree of emotional distress.” Belkin v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 667 F. Supp. 2d 8, 22 (D.D.C. 2009). In cases brought under this exception to the FSIA, solatium claims have been treated as analogous to claims for the intentional infliction of emotional distress. See, e.g., Surette v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 231 F.

Supp. 2d 260, 267 n.5 (D.D.C. 2002) (treating solatium claim as “indistinguishable” from the claim of “intentional infliction of emotional distress.”) (quoting Wagner v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 172 F. Supp. 2d 128, 135 n.11 (D.D.C. 2001)).

When previously awarding solatium damages in this case and in other 9/11-related cases, this Court looked at the framework established by District Judge Royce C. Lamberth in Estate of Heiser v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 466 F. Supp. 2d 229 (D.D.C. 2006), where the court awarded solatium damages to each spouse of a deceased victim in the amount of $8 million, to each parent in the amount of $5 million, and to each sibling in the amount of $2.5 million. Id. This formula, however, may be adjusted upward or downward when circumstances warrant. See, e.g., Estate of Bland v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 831 F. Supp. 2d 1 50, 156 (D.D.C. 2011); Valore, 700 F. Supp. 2d at 85.

Analyzing the solatium claims of the families of the Havlish victims who perished in the 9/11 Attacks, Magistrate Judge Maas concluded that an upward departure from Judge Lambert's framework in Heiser was appropriate. In Havlish, Judge Maas explained that an upward departure was warranted because the decedents' immediate family members suffered, and continue to suffer, “profound agony and grief and, [w]orse yet, . . . are faced with frequent reminders of the events of that day.” See 03-md-1570 ECF No. 2619 at 10-12. Judge Maas noted in his July 30, 2012 Report and Recommendation the “extraordinarily tragic circumstances surrounding the 9/11 Attacks and their indelible impact on the lives of the victims’ families.” Id. at 11. In that Report, with which this Court later agreed, Magistrate Judge Maas recommended that solatium damages be awarded to the immediate family members of the victims of the 9/11 Attacks in the following amounts:

Relationship of Decedent	Solatium Award
Spouse	$12,500,000
Parent	$8,500,000
Child	$8,500,000

Sibling	$4,250,000

03-md-1570, ECF No. 2619 at 11.

These exact amounts were adopted by this Court in its October 3, 2012 Order, 03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623, and were replicated in this Court's June 16, 2016 Order relating to the claims of certain of the Ashton Plaintiffs, 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3300, and in the September 12, 2016 Order pertaining to plaintiffs in the Bauer case, 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3341, and in the October 14, 2016 Report and Recommendation and October 31, 2016 Order in the Hoglan case, 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3363, 3384. These amounts were, again, adopted by this Court in its April 24, 2018 Order relating to the claims of additional Ashton Plaintiffs, 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3977 at 7. And notably, the same values were applied to the claims of other plaintiffs in the Arias case in this Court's order of September 9, 2019 (03-md-1570 ECF No. 5104). The solatium losses suffered by the Arias plaintiffs before the Court in this application are legally and factually comparable to those suffered by the other plaintiffs in Burnett/Iran and the plaintiffs in the Havlish, Ashton, Bauer, and Hoglan cases.

Plaintiffs identified on Exhibit A respectfully request that the Court grant awards of solatium to the immediate family members as identified on Exhibit A in the same amounts indicated herein, consistent with this Court's application of those values established and applied in Havlish, and subsequently adopted and applied to other plaintiffs in this case and to plaintiffs in the Ashton, Bauer, and Hoglan cases and in earlier orders for other plaintiffs in the Arias case.

b. Punitive Damages

Under the FSIA, plaintiffs are also entitled to punitive damages. See 28 U.S.C. §1605A(c)(4). In the Havlish Report and Recommendation on Damages, the magistrate judge explained that a “3.44 ratio ‘has been established as the standard ratio applicable to cases arising out of" terrorist attacks." (03-md-1570, ECF No. ECF 2619, at 13, citing Estate of Bland v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 831 F. Supp. 2d 150, 158 (D.C. 2011)). This Court adopted that recommendation and awarded punitive damages on each compensatory damages category at a ratio of 3.44 (punitive) to 1 (compensatory) (03-md-1570, ECF No. 2623). The Court has applied that ratio to awards for plaintiffs in other related cases. See, e.g., 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3175, at 3 (Magistrate Judge Maas Report and Recommendation to apply 3.44 punitive multiplier); 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3229, at 1 (Judge Daniels adopting in its entirety Judge Maas's Report and Recommendation to apply 3.44 multiplier); 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3300, at 1 and Exhibit A (Judge Daniels applying 3.44 punitive multiplier to claims in Ashton).

However, in Hoglan, another case in the In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation, Magistrate Judge Netburn recommended that the plaintiffs' request for punitive damages be denied without prejudice. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3363, at 28. Judge Daniels adopted Judge Netburn's Report in its entirety, denying without prejudice the plaintiffs' request for punitive damages. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3384, at 6.

In light of the Court's decision in related litigation to defer determination of punitive damage issues until a later stage of the litigation, Plaintiffs herein request permission to address the issue of punitive damages at a later date. See, e.g., ECF No. 3666 (Judge Daniels order in Burnett/Iran, authorizing other plaintiffs to make an application for punitive damages at a later date consistent with any future rulings of the Court).

c. Prejudgment Interest

An award of prejudgment interest is within the sound discretion of a trial court and is warranted when plaintiffs are delayed in recovering compensation for non-economic injuries caused by acts of terrorism. See Baker v. Socialist People's Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, 775 F. Supp.

2d 48, 86 (D.D.C. 2011). This Court awarded the Havlish plaintiffs prejudgment interest at a rate of 4.96% on their pain and suffering damages awards, to be calculated from September 11, 2001 until the date of judgment (03-md-1570, ECF 2619 at 13-14). This Court, recognizing that prejudgment interest was appropriate in cases such as this case, adopted the magistrate judge's reasoning, finding that an award of prejudgment interest was appropriate and accepting the rate of 4.96%, as proposed by the Havlish plaintiffs' expert.

After the Havlish award, plaintiffs in Ashton and Bauer proposed, and the Court agreed, that prejudgment simple interest at the New York State statutory rate of nine percent per annum was appropriate in cases where the injuries arose in New York and the prejudgment interest used in Havlish, 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually, should be reserved for only those cases where the injuries arose in other states. See 03-md-1570, ECF Nos. 3229 at 2; 3300 at 1; 3341 at 1.

The Second Circuit has held that New York State's statutory prejudgment interest rate should apply to the damages awarded to World Trade Center complex leaseholders in their litigation against American Airlines and United Airlines brought under the federal Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act ("ATSSSA"). World Trade Farmers Market, Inc. v. American Airlines, Inc. (In Re: September 11th Litigation), 2015 U.S. App. LEXIS 16619, *66 (2d Cir. Sept. 17, 2015). In that case, the Second Circuit concluded that a federal cause of action under the ATSSSA must look to state rules concerning prejudgment interest. Id. Accordingly, the Second Circuit held that New York's statutory prejudgment interest rate of nine percent as opposed to a lower rate crafted under federal law, had to be applied to the plaintiffs' 9/11 claims. Id.

However, more recently, in Hoglan, Magistrate Judge Netburn recommended that the 4.96 percent interest rate for prejudgment interest should be applied to all of the solatium claims. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3363 at 28-29. Judge Daniels adopted Judge Netburn's Hoglan Report in its entirety and applied the interest rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually to all of the claims. 03-md-1570, ECF No. 3384 at 6.

In light of the Court's decision in the Hoglan matter, applying the 4.96 percent rate to prejudgment interest, the Arias Plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A respectfully request that the clerk be directed to award prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually, running from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment.

III. Conclusion

For all of the reasons herein, as well as those set forth in the submissions of the other plaintiffs in this case and plaintiffs in the other 9/11 related cases in the In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation, the Arias plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A respectfully request that this Court award them solatium damages of $12,500,000 per spouse, $8,500,000 per parent, $8,500,000 per child, and $4,250,000 per sibling; prejudgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment; grant permission for the Arias plaintiffs identified in Exhibit A to seek punitive damages, economic damages, or other appropriate damages at a later date; and grant permission for all Arias Plaintiffs not appearing on Exhibit A to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.
